

Constructions

In line with its fundamental goals, EXE is very active in the recovery and redecorating of constructions.

Â

The application of bio-architecture principles to the constructions built in the past, and the rational exploitation of technological applications allows us to create residential and working environments with elevated standard of comfort, reducing energy and water consumption in full respect of the environment.

Â